

Workshop on Intellectual Property

Peter E. Dunn, Office of Research
Administration

Thomas B. Parent, Stuart & Branigin
LLP

“Intellectual property is a unique creation of the human mind. It neither has tangible form nor exists apart from the context of the applicable governmental jurisdiction.”

Thomas D. Mays

“Ownership of Data and Intellectual Property”
in Macrina, Francis L., Scientific Integrity, Third Edition, Chap. 9, pp 211-245, ASM Press,
Washington, DC, 2005

Agenda

- Thomas Parent
 - Copyright
- Peter Dunn
 - Purdue Policy: Copyright
 - Patents
 - Technology Transfer