<sup>1</sup>The Graduate School should be acknowledged in offer letters and all other documents as the source of funding for these fellowships. Depending on the wording of your offer letters, appropriate references to the funding source might include the following: "...the Graduate School's Frederick N. Andrews Fellowship..." or "...the Frederick N. Andrews Fellowship by the Graduate School..." The Graduate School allocates funding to the academic programs which select fellowship recipients based on the established guidelines.

<sup>4</sup>The Minimum stipend assumes a 3% increase. The actual stipend increase will be announced in March/April 2008
